ErrTraffic v2.Panel

This script is designed for any website, access, scrap, shell or ftp.

All you need to do is connect it in code, for example in html in the form: `<script src="scrypt.js"></script>` at the beginning `<head>` title.

When you open a site with a script connected, it will call fake glitches on the website. The user will see a broken font encoding, a broken frame, and the site twitching when driving the cursor over it.

It doesn't affect the site files themselves!

The script displays a modal window on top of the "broken site"

Supports 3 modes: Browser update, Missing system font, ClickFix for Windows

The script itself will determine the OS Windows, macOS, android, linux, which browser and the language in which to display the message supports 30 languages.

All settings can be changed in the control panel; they will immediately be applied wherever the script is already connected.

After clicking the download button, the window and glitches disappear, the site continues to operate normally for this user.

Seeing such glitches on the site, the victim will click download the update, which gives high conversion.

5 krokov, ktoré urobte ihneď

1.	Incident response plan	Nie do šuplíka, ale do praxe
2.	Zmluvy s dodávateľmi	Bezpečnosť, hlásenie, audit, zodpovednosť
3.	Školenia zamestnancov	Ľudský faktor neodstráni žiadna technológia
4.	V pochybnostiach -&gt; nahlásiť	Regulátor ocení proaktivitu
5.	Odborníci ešte pred incidentom	Nie až keď zavolá IT
